PART XX. VOLUNTARY FARMLAND PROTECTION PROGRAMS.

§8-24-72. Legislative findings and purpose.

The Legislature hereby finds and declares that agriculture is a unique “life support” industry and that a need exists to assist those agricultural areas of the state which are experiencing the irreversible loss of agricultural land. It is the intent of the Legislature to provide persons and other entities an opportunity to voluntarily protect agricultural land and woodland in order to:

- (1) Assist in sustaining the farming community;
- (2) provide sources of agricultural products within the state for the citizens of the state;
- (3) control the urban expansion which is consuming the agricultural land, topsoil and woodland of the state;
- (4) curb the spread of urban blight and deterioration;
- (5) protect agricultural land and woodland as open-space land;
- (6) enhance tourism; and
- (7) protect worthwhile community values, institutions and landscapes which are inseparably associated with traditional farming.

Further, it is the intent of the Legislature to establish a West Virginia agricultural land protection authority, hereinafter “authority,” to assist persons, other entities and counties to obtain funding from any source available to accomplish the purposes of the voluntary farmland protection programs.

- (b) Conservation easement. B- This article incorporates the definition of a conservation easement found in section three, article twelve, chapter twenty of this code except that a conservation easement created under this article must be held or coheld by at least one “holder” as defined in that section in perpetuity.
- (c) Farm, farmland or agricultural land. – A tract, or contiguous tracts of land, of any size, used or useable for agriculture, horticulture or grazing and includes all real property designated as wetlands that are part of a property used or useable as farmland.

- (e) Woodland. – Woodland shall be considered land of a farm only if it is part of or appurtenant to a tract of land which is a farm, or held by common ownership of a person or entity owning a farm, but in no event may woodland include land used primarily in commercial forestry or the growing of timber for commercial purposes or any other use inconsistent with farm use.
- (f) Opt-out provision. B- A provision which may be inserted into any conservation or preservation easement agreement entered into pursuant to this article which would act as a mechanism to place the easement selling price into an escrow fund for the purpose of allowing the owner or owners up to five years to rescind the decision to enter into the farmland protection program.

§8-24-76. Methods of farmland protection.

- (a) The authority or a county farmland protection board may negotiate with and compensate eligible property owners to ensure the protection of farmland within the county or state. Methods of protecting farmland may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- (1) Acquisition of conservation easement or preservation easement. – With the consent of a property owner, the county farmland protection board or the authority may acquire and place on record a conservation or preservation easement. Acquired easements apply only to those properties which qualify for consideration under the terms established by an adopted farmland protection program;
  - (2) Acquisition of land and disposition. – With the consent of a property owner, the county farmland protection board or the authority may acquire any property which qualifies for agricultural protection under terms established by an adopted farmland protection program. The county farmland protection board or the authority may lease, as lessor, acquired property for agricultural uses or may restrict the property to agricultural uses and sell the property at fair market value for use as a farm. Any property acquired by a county farmland protection board or the authority and then sold shall be sold subject to a conservation or preservation easement. If the property is leased, the lessee shall pay to the county commission, in addition to rent, an annual fee set by the county commission. The amount of this annual fee shall be commensurate with the amount of property taxes which would be assessed in accordance with the provisions of this code upon the property if the property were held by a private landowner.
- (b) Revenues from the sale of properties restricted to agricultural uses shall be used to recover the original purchase costs of the properties and shall be returned to the applicable funds which were used by the county farmland protection board or the authority to purchase the property. Any profits resulting from the sale of property restricted to agricultural uses shall be deposited in a farmland protection fund.

§8-24-77. Offer of conservation or preservation easements.

- (a) Owner may offer to sell or donate a conservation or preservation easement. – An owner of farmland may offer by written application to sell or donate a conservation or preservation easement on all or any portion of the farm to a county farmland board or the authority.
- (b) Requirements for application to sell or donate. – In order to be considered by a county farmland protection board or the authority, an application to sell or donate shall:
  - (1) Include an asking price, if any, at which the owner is willing to sell a conservation or preservation easement and shall specify the terms under which the offer is made; and
  - (2) Include a complete description of the land, including, but not limited to, an itemization of all debts secured by the land and the identity and amount of all liens.

§8-24-78. Value of conservation or preservation easement.

- (a) Maximum value. – The maximum value of any conservation or preservation easement acquired by the county farmland protection board or the authority is the asking price or the difference between the fair market value of the land and the agricultural value of the land, whichever is lower.

- (b) Fair market value. – The fair market value of the land is the price as of the valuation date for the highest and best use of the property which a vendor, willing but not obligated to sell, would accept for the property, and which a purchaser, willing but not obligated to buy, would pay for the property if the property was not subject to any restriction imposed under this article.
- (c) Agricultural value. – The agricultural value of land is the price as of the valuation date which a vendor, willing but not obligated to sell, would accept for the property, and which a purchaser, willing but not obligated to buy, would pay for the property subject to the restrictions placed upon it by the conservation or preservation easement.
- (d) Determination of values. – The value of the easement is determined at the time the county farmland protection board or the authority is requested in writing to acquire the easement. The fair market value is determined by the county farmland protection board or the authority based on one or more appraisals obtained by the county farmland protection board or the authority, and appraisals, if any, of the landowner.
- (e) Arbitration. – If the landowner and the county farmland protection board or the authority do not agree on the value of the easement as determined by the state, the landowner, the county farmland protection board or the authority may request that the matter be referred to a mutually agreed upon mediator for arbitration as to the value of the easement. The arbitration shall be conducted in accordance with the rules promulgated by the American arbitration association. The value determined at arbitration is binding upon the owner and the county farmland protection board or the authority in a purchase of the easement made subsequent to the arbitration for a period of two years, unless the landowner and the county farmland protection board or the authority agree upon a lesser value or the landowner, the county farmland protection board or the authority appeals the results of the arbitration to the circuit court.

§8-24-79. Criteria for acquisition of conservation and preservation easements by county farmland protection boards and the authority.

The authority and county farmland protection boards, in ranking applications for conservation and preservation easements, shall consider the following factors as priorities:

- (a) The imminence of residential, commercial or industrial development;
- (b) The total acreage offered for conservation or preservation easement;
- (c) The presence of prime farmland, unique farmland, farmland of statewide importance, other locally significant farmlands and the productive capacity of the acreage;
- (d) Whether the property offered is contiguous or appurtenant to working farms;
- (e) The ratio of the asking price, if any, of the easement to the fair market value of the easement;
- (f) The historical, architectural, archaeological, cultural, recreational, natural, scenic, source water protection or unique value of the easement: Provided, That determinations of the authority or a county farmland protection board are not a substitute for and do not have the effect of other procedures under state or federal law for granting protected status to land, including, but not limited to, procedures under the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended, or rules of the director of the historic preservation section of the division of culture and history authorized in section eight, article one, chapter twenty-nine of this code, or procedures under the authority of the tourism commissioner or the parks and recreation section of the division of natural resources;

- (g) The existence and amount of secured debt upon the property, as determined by a title search, and whether the total exceeds the agricultural value of the land as determined by the appraisal as required in subsection (d), section seventy-eight of this article; and
- (h) The length of the protective easement.

§8-24-80. Use of land for which conservation or preservation easement acquired.

(a) Provisions to be included in conservation or preservation easement and county farmland protection board rules, or the authority rules. – Farmland upon which a conservation or preservation easement has been recorded may be used for the following:

- (1) Farm use;
- (2) Businesses directly related to the retail sale of farm products;
- (3) Any activity performed for religious, charitable or educational purposes or to foster tourism; and
- (4) Any home-based business that does not require a division of environmental protection permit to operate.

Notwithstanding any of the exceptions in this subsection, any use of land under preservation or conservation easement must be consistent with the purpose of the farmland protection programs.

(b) Use for commercial, industrial or residential purposes. – Excepting existing and future uses described in subsections (c), (d) and (e) of this section, a landowner whose land is subject to a conservation or preservation easement may not develop the land for any commercial, industrial, residential or other nonfarm purpose. Nonresidential, noncommercial, nonindustrial farm support buildings or structures are permitted.

(c) Exclusion for single residential dwelling. -B On request to a county farmland protection board or the authority, an owner may exclude two acres per each single residential dwelling, which existed at the time of the sale of the easement, from the easement prohibitions on residential development. A land survey and recordation identifying each single residential dwelling shall be provided at the expense of the owner. However, before any exclusion is granted, an owner shall agree with the county farmland protection board or the authority not to subdivide further for residential purposes any acreage allowed to be excluded. This agreement shall be recorded among the land records where the land is located and shall bind all future owners.

(d) Exclusion for certain existing and future uses. – This article neither abrogates nor creates any preexisting rights in the land owned by any person not joining as a grantor of a conservation or preservation easement. Neither the creation nor the existence of a conservation or preservation easement shall prevent existing or future use of the land based on a preexisting right, or prevent any existing or future use consistent with state law with respect to transmission and telecommunications facilities rights-of-way, easements and licenses.

- (e) Condemnation of private property for public use. – This article neither abrogates nor creates any rights inconsistent with state or federal law respecting the power of condemnation of private property for public use. Any person or entity exercising the power of eminent domain must pay compensation at not less than the fair market value of the land to the court having jurisdiction of the proceeding or as directed by the court. The term “fair market value” as used in this subdivision shall be determined without regard to the existence of the conservation or preservation easement. Neither the creation nor the existence of a conservation or preservation easement shall prevent acquisition of real property, or any right or interest in the property, for public use.

§8-24-81. Funding of farmland protection programs.

- (a) Creation of fund. – A county commission may use any funds not specifically limited to other uses to fund and support a farmland protection program and, once having created a county farmland protection board, shall authorize the board to create and maintain a farmland protection fund and hire staff as it considers appropriate.
- (b) Created and continued. – The West Virginia farmland protection fund is created for the purposes specified in this article.
- (c) Sources. – The West Virginia farmland protection fund is comprised of:
- (1) Any money made available to the fund by general or special fund appropriations;
  - (2) Any money made available to the fund by grants or transfers from governmental or private sources;
  - (3) Any money realized by investments, interest, dividends or distributions; and
  - (4) Any money appropriated by the Legislature for the West Virginia farmland protection fund.
- (d) Disbursements. – The treasurer may not disburse any money from the fund other than:
- (1) For costs associated with the staffing, administration, and technical and legal duties of the authority;
  - (2) For reasonable expenses incurred by the members of the board of trustees of the authority in the performance of official duties; and
  - (3) For consideration in the purchase of farmland conservation and preservation easements.
- (e) Money remaining at end of fiscal year. – Any money remaining in the fund at the end of a fiscal year shall not revert to the general revenue fund of the state, but shall remain in the West Virginia farmland protection fund to be used for the purposes specified in this chapter.

- (f) Budget. – The estimated budget of the authority for the next fiscal year shall be included with the budget of the West Virginia department of agriculture.
- (g) Audit. – The fund shall be audited annually.

§8-24-82. Disbursements by the authority to county farmland protection boards.

- (a) Applications; amount. – If a county has established a county farmland protection program, the authority shall distribute within sixty days after the end of its fiscal year at least eighty percent of that fiscal year's remaining funds to county farmland protection boards who have certified to the authority that there is then pending an application for one or more conservation or preservation easements. Each certification shall include:
  - (1) The name of each applicant for an easement and the date of each application for an easement during the fiscal year;
  - (2) A description of the property upon which an easement is offered; and
  - (3) An appraisal of the value of the conservation or preservation easement as provided for in section seventy-eight of this article.
- (b) Disbursement formula. – Disbursement of authority funds to qualifying counties shall be based on the ratio of each county farmland protection board's appraisal value of conservation and preservation easement applications, including those applications to donate easements, received during the fiscal year to the total of the appraisal value of all applications for conservation and preservation easements for the fiscal year received by the authority from county farmland protection boards. Applications for easement donations may only be counted if the county farmland protection board holds or coholds the easement.

§8-24-83. Classification of land subject to conservation or preservation easement.

Notwithstanding any statute or rule to the contrary, any property held or coheld by a holder under a conservation or preservation easement as defined in this article, regardless of ownership, shall be taxed as "agricultural lands" for ad valorem property tax purposes without further requirement, restriction or disqualification. For ad valorem property tax purposes, any property held or coheld by a holder under a perpetual conservation or preservation easement as defined by this article, regardless of ownership, shall be taxed as "agricultural lands" without further requirement, restriction or disqualification.

§8-24-84. Authorization for commissioner of agriculture to promulgate proposed rules.

The commissioner of agriculture may propose rules for legislative approval in accordance with the provisions of article three, chapter twenty-nine-a of this code to implement the provisions of this article. ♦
